DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Nichols et al. (U.S. Patent No. Des 3,995).

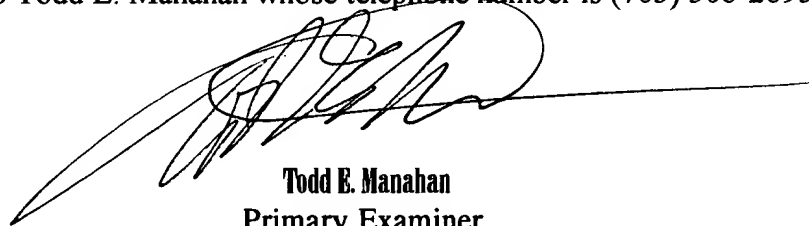

Nichols et al disclose a trimming tool comprising first and second handles F,G pivotally attached to one another intermediate their ends; a first cutting jaw A extending from the first end of the first handle; a second cutting jaw B extending from the first end of the second handle such that the first and second cutting jaws are configured to cut an object when closed toward one another; and a clip D associated with the second cutting jaw and configured to retain the cut object between the clip and the jaw until the first and second jaws are separated or the object is forcibly removed from the clip. A pair of leaf springs i,i having one end attached to a respective handle and second ends thereof attached together bias the jaws in an open position. The clip comprises a resiliently flexible spring having a generally S-shape attached to the jaw at one end and having a second end extending over the cutting edge and presenting a sharp edge.
